Welcome to Week 8. As the term and the year draws ever closer, students and staff are now in the process of finishing learning activities and assessments whilst reflecting on the year and what has been achieved. I would like to again remind students and parents that they are required to be at school until the 18th of December.

Tomorrow (Thursday) students will be heading off to Boggabri to participate in the Rock Climbing Wall and Water Activities Day. Students are to arrive as per usual to school and will be transported to and from Mullaley.

Students are also reminded that they must wear a school hat to be able to participate in the organised activities.

At yesterday's P&C meeting, I spoke about the class structures for 2020. Next week, an expression of interest will be advertised state wide for an additional teacher. As such, a final decision regarding what teachers will be on each class has not yet been made.

We will continue with the three class structure Monday through Thursday and drop back to two classes on a Friday. A notice regarding class teachers will be made once the expression of interest has closed.

If you have any questions relating to the school organisation for 2020, please feel free to contact me through the school.

Finally, our presentation night will be on next Tuesday the 10th of December from 7pm at the Mullaley Hall. I look forward to seeing you all there to celebrate the achievements of our students.

Enjoy your week.

Benjamin Carter
Principal
